

Ada Byron Lovelace and the Thinking Machine

978-1939547200 10/13/15

Creston Books, $17.99

Laurie Wallmark and April Chu

Ada Byron Lovelace and the Thinking Machine is a picture-book biography of the world's first computer programmer. Ada was born two hundred years ago, long before the invention of the modern electronic computer. At a time when girls and women had few options outside the home, Ada followed her dreams and studied mathematics.

(click picture for hi-res image)

SELECTED AWARDS:

- Kirkus, Publishers Weekly, Booklist, School Library Journal - starred reviews
- CBC/NSTA Best STEM Books of 2017
- Cook Prize Honor Book
- Outstanding Science Trade Book (National Science Teachers Association)
- Eureka! Nonfiction Children's Book Award (California Reading Association)
- Top Ten Science and Health Books for Youth (Booklist)
- Amelia Bloomer List (American Library Association)

Laurie Wallmark, www.lauriewallmark.com, laurie@lauriewallmark.com, 908-782-8358